Best for: Visual learners who value more control and self-study.

Online learning is an interactive, digital approach to studying. Immerse yourself in activities, videos and podcasts as you work through a structured learning plan. Online learning is excellent for those who prefer a visual, practical approach to study.

All of our online courses are created to the latest syllabus standards. Built on robust and secure foundations, our award winning Learning Management Systems (LMS) have been engineered to prioritise learner experience.

With you, the learner core to the course design, we have minimalised information overload. We are infusing knowledge with a vast library of multimedia content, including a wealth of video content.

If your course also includes live, tutor-led webinars, expect regular recap sessions on any challenging topics of the course, exams or assessments. Our tutors are IOSH Chartered Members, and they will be on hand to answer any of your questions and teach you how to tackle your assessments.

Keeping on top of your learning schedule is essential if you looking to pass your qualification.

It is the reason why we have introduced Astutis TrackSmart, a fresh new gadget helping learners always know their academic timelines. Learners have constant access to their time trackers and exam date trackers, so they will always be on top of the learning deadlines. These tools enable learners to remain informed continually throughout their studies.

OnlinePlus+

Blended learning with access to exclusive Astutis Online Tools.

Best for: Learners who wish for the best of both worlds, online learning with tutor webinars.

A blended learning approach to instruction combines face-to-face classroom tuition led by expert tutors with online self-study time, meaning an integrated learning experience. Our OnlinePlus+ programmes combine face-to-face and online methods to varying degrees.

An OnlinePlus+ course comprises a series of scheduled tutorials conducted in real-time using webinar software and sits alongside our self-study online course.

This learning method replicates the best classroom experience by allowing learners to ask questions to a dedicated online tutor, share ideas and participate in live discussions.

Learners work as part of a group, starting together on a scheduled programme with set time frames. Together learners work through the interactive online course and attend the programme of live tutorials.

Here at Astutis, we know that to run a marathon, you don't start training by running a full marathon. So to get you ready for your exam, we've built the Astutis ExamSmart™ framework. The framework comprises three unique pillars that support your learning journey and help you pass your exam while minimising any negative pressure you may feel.

Classroom.

Traditional learning with individual attention when needed.

Best for: Learners who prefer a structured, tutor-led approach in a traditional classroom environment.

When studying for your health and safety or environmental qualification, you may prefer a structured, tutor-led approach, sharing experiences gained from fellow health and safety professionals within other organisations. If this is the case, then an Astutis classroom-based course is an ideal option.

With learner safety at the heart of our classroom course tuition, we limit the number of learners on each course. We regularly visit the venues to conduct risk assessments and audit the standards of catering and comfort.
