What is the IOSH Managing Safely?

The IOSH Managing Safely® is the world's leading health and safety certificate for line managers and supervisors.

Developed by the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH), a globally recognised chartered body, this course is trusted by organisations across every sector to build a culture of safe, responsible working. Over 200,000 people completed the qualification in 2025 alone, making it one of the most widely held health and safety certifications in the world.

Course Duration:

- ▶ Online: 20-25 hours.
- ▶ Classroom: 3 days.

Entry Requirements:

No formal entry requirements or prior experience needed.

In practical terms, IOSH Managing Safely provides managers and supervisors with the foundational knowledge and confidence to identify risks, meet legal obligations, and lead their teams to higher workplace safety standards. It won't turn delegates into safety specialists, but it will equip them with everything they need to fulfil their responsibilities and protect the people they manage.

Who is the Course For?

The IOSH Managing Safely is built for anyone operating in a line management or supervisory role, regardless of sector or industry. If you are responsible for the health, safety and well-being of a team, this course is designed for you.

It is just as relevant in a logistics warehouse as it is in a corporate office. Organisations in construction, manufacturing, retail, hospitality, oil and gas, facilities management and beyond have all made it a standard part of their management development programmes.
